BRIEF NOTES.

Hayden's Mills have been closed during the week.

The Board of School Trustees held a meeting on Tuesday night.

The new hat-forming mill at Watsessing has commenced work.

The Park M. E. Sunday School session will be held in the morning during the balance of the summer.

Joseph Chandler sustained severe injuries by falling off the elevator at the Latham Brake works on Monday.

The closing exercises of the Parochial School at Union Hall last Friday evening were witnessed by a large audience.

The Fourth was attended with about the usual number of casualties, none of which were of a serious nature.

Fourth of July proved another bonanza for the Orange and Bloomfield Street Railway Company. The cars were crowded all day.

The Bloomfield Reform Club have rented Spragg's Pavilion, on Glenwood Avenue, in which to hold a series of Gospel Temperance meetings.

John Weigel had the fingers of his right hand crushed on Monday while unloading a car at the Latham Brake Shoe foundry.

The Montclair post office reached the status of a second-class office on Monday, and Postmaster Jacobus's salary will accordingly be $2200.

Collector Marr has been notified by the Township Committee to prepare a list of delinquent taxpayers, with the view of advertising the same according to law.

A base ball nine composed of members of Essex Truck Company defeated a nine from the Cycling Club last Sunday by a score of 34 to 17.

A meeting was held at the residence of Mr. E. B. Goodell, in Montclair, on Friday night, to discuss the organization of a National Bank. J. Calvin Shafer is at the head of the movement.

A handsome satin quilt, the result of tireless labor on the part of Mrs. Frank Knapp, was disposed of by chance at A. J. McDougall's furniture warehouses on Saturday night.

A meeting of the Bloomfield Republican Club will be held on Monday evening at Dodd's Hall for the purpose of perfecting the campaign organization. Let all Republicans turn out.

A disgraceful street fight took place at the corner of Bloomfield Avenue and Third Street on Monday night. A ring was formed and all the formalities of a prize fight observed.

Michael O'Neil, a braken-ant on the New York and Greenwood Lake Railroad was killed last Friday. He was riding on top of a freight train when his head came in contact with a bridge over the Chestnut Hill cut.

The numerous Bloomfield friends of Mrs. Carrie Hayes, wife of Uzal T. Hayes, of Middletown, N. Y., were surprised to hear of her sudden death, which occurred on Thursday, from paralysis.

Father J. M. Nardello, of the Sacred Heart, was presented with a set of resolutions by his congregation last Sunday. The occasion was the 10th anniversary of his pastorate over the church.

John Driscoll, aged 14, of 59 Pacific Street, Newark, who is mentally unstable, was found wandering on the street last Saturday by Officer Smith. He was sent to the Second Precinct Station where the police were looking for him.

List of letters remaining in the Post Office at Glen Ridge, N. J., July 2, 1888: Fuller, Mrs. C. R.; McMahon, P. Any person calling for the above will please pay for advertised letters.

THOMAS MORITZ, P. M.

Two ladies were accosted by roughs at a late hour on Saturday night near the corner of Liberty Street and Bloomfield Avenue. Their screams brought help and the roughs were pursued across the Montclair line.

A gentleman who has seen an outline of the proposed new D. L. and W. R. R. depot at Watsessing states that the arrangements will be equal to the Arlington Avenue depot at East Orange. The site is on the south side of Watsessing Avenue.

The residents of the western part of Belleville who took of getting an injunction to prevent the expenditure of $50,000 on roads, have let the matter drop. Bills for the work will be received by the Road Committee next week.

Excelsior Hose Company No. 3 have completed arrangements for their second annual excursion. The excursion will be to the Warwick Woodlands, Greenwood Lake, on Wednesday, July 18th. The price of tickets is one dollar each.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Edmiston and family, of Brooklyn, spent the Fourth with their relatives on Park Avenue.

John Meuser, a brass roller employed at Benson's mill, was severely cut on the arm by the slipping of a sheet of metal which he was working through the rolls.

A number of commuters have left the D. L. & W. R. R., which charges $6.50 per month for a commutation ticket, and have gone to the Orange branch, of the N. Y. & G. L. R. R., which charges only $6 with the additional advantage of Sunday rides.

A township ordinance is said to forbid the nailing of board and tin signs on trees along the highways for advertising. A great many advertisers disregard the law, and it is proposed to instruct the police to arrest offenders of this class and also to remove the signs.

A huge fire cracker thrown on the track in front of the horses attached to last car on the Cross-Town road Tuesday night, frightened the animals so that they pulled the car from the track and for a moment it was feared that it would be upset. The wildest excitement ensued among the passengers.

The District Clerk gives notice of the annual financial meeting of Central Union School District, to be held on Monday evening, July 16th. The Trustees recommend $9,500 to be raised for current expenses, $3,000 additional for payment on the mortgage indebtedness.

The Orange Athletic Club have arranged a game with the Eclans of Newark for Saturday afternoon at the Roseville grounds. This club is the D. Smith Wood nine and they have a wonderful left hand twirler who recently struck out twenty-two men in one game.

Mr. Blaine is expected to reach New York on July 25th and arrangements are being made in the metropolis to give him a right royal reception. It is estimated that 10,000 members of Republican clubs and others from New York will go down the bay to meet the steamer.

The Fourth was ushered in by a big bonfire kindled at the Centre after twelve o'clock on Tuesday night. The persons who kindled the fire had no regard for personal property. Heckel's fish stand, Dawkins's strawberry crates and a number of barrels and boxes from other adjacent stores were stolen and used to feed the flames.

The East Orange police have been instructed to notify property owners that where the branches of trees in front of any property obstruct the gaslights, the owner of the property must trim them off to a proper height. This rule could be applied in this township with good effect in many instances.

The projectors of the Bloomfield National Bank are meeting with gratifying success. A paper has been circulated among the business men, setting forth the objects of the new enterprise. It has been favorably received and many signatures have been attached. It is understood that if the bank is organized, Mr. Thomas Oakes is to be the president—it being the unanimous desire of those interested. It is proposed to erect a suitable building near the Centre, with ample capacity to accommodate the Bloomfield Savings Bank, should that institution decide to move.

Mr. Francis Law, member of the firm of Ellor, Law & Co., and his daughter, Miss Jennie, a graduate of the High School, Class of 1888, Rev. J. H. Egbert, a former pastor of the Watsessing M. E. Church, and his daughter, Miss Rose Egbert, Mr. Andrew Ellor, Superintendent of the Watsessing M. E. Sunday School, and his grandson, George A. Ellor, Mr. William Bowker, superintendent of the making department at Ellor, Law & Co., and Mr. Thomas Albion, Sr., sailed on Thursday for Europe in the State Line Steamer Pennsylvania. They will travel through Scotland and England, visiting places of interest. They will return in about two months.

It was estimated that 300 people were on the ground to witness the game of baseball between the nines composed of Butchers and Grocers of Bloomfield. The former outplayed their opponents and won by a score of 34 to 14. The contest was for a ball and bat. At the close of the game the butchers presented the trophies to Messrs. Frank Daly and Jas. Donegan, their catcher and pitcher, as it was chiefly owing to the playing of these two that they won the victory. Samuel Andrews surprised himself and his friends by a brilliant catch in centre field. The dance around the May flower by Messrs. Heckel and Andrews was an amusing feature of the game.

It is the purpose to hold these Gospel meetings every week, and to secure as speakers, so far as possible, men who are peculiarly adapted to this kind of work. It is earnestly requested that Christian people pay earnestly to God's special blessing on this movement, and by their presence and co-operation aid in the good cause.

Spragg's Pavilion.

The pavilion and picnic ground known as Spragg's, on Glenwood Avenue, has been permanently rented by a number of gentlemen, and is henceforth to be used for Gospel Meetings, temperance work, etc. The pavilion will be opened next Monday evening for a Gospel meeting.

Ben Hogan, the Converted Prize Fighter, will speak. There will be good music and singing, and everybody will be welcome.

Ben Hogan, who is to speak at Spragg's Pavilion on Monday evening, July 9th, is a native of Wurttemberg, Germany. He came to this country in 1852 and up to the time of his conversion lived a wild, wicked, roving, fighting life, and has been styled "the wickedest man in the world." Since his conversion he has traveled over a large part of the country, preaching the gospel of the Son of God. In the "Wild West," in California, among the gold diggers, in the oil regions and in many of the largest cities of the Union he has ceased not to point men and women to the Christ. He has just now returned from a western trip, and has kindly consented to speak at the opening meeting in the pavilion. He delights to talk to men, who like himself have led openly wicked and reckless lives, for with such he has a deep sympathy, and knows from his own experience that there is a full and free salvation for even the chief of sinners.

Mr. McVicar's New School Building.

Mr. J. G. McVicar, who has successfully conducted the Montclair Boys' School during the past scholastic year, has associated with himself Mr. L. E. Dow, his assistant, as part owner.

They have purchased a plot of ground of two-and-a-half acres just above Mrs. Lloyd's residence on Bloomfield Avenue, and a school building of ample dimensions, equipped with all the modern improvements as regards heating, ventilation and light, is about being erected upon it. The surroundings are free from all deleterious influences, and the ground is a level and well-drained plateau, furnishing ample room for outdoor sports and athletics. The old school building on Clinton Avenue will be removed to this place and used as a gymnasium.

The new building will be a three-story frame structure, designed by Architect Eichorn, of Orange. It will be supplied with water and gas, ventilated by means of air ducts, and heated with hot air, while all the windows will be supplied with transoms, thus insuring constant pure air without creating a draught.

There will be spacious verandas from which a fine view will be had in every direction—east as far as the Hudson and the Narrows. The halls will be ample, and separate entrances will be provided for small boys, it being the intention of Mr. McVicar to receive boys of from six years up. The building will accommodate 150 pupils.

While the school will be in a comparatively retired location it will by no means be isolated, as it is but ten minutes walk from the Post Office, and the Caldwell stages pass by the door at convenient hours. Boys coming or going by the trains can ride in the stages at very small additional expense. It has also been arranged so that boys desiring it can obtain a warm lunch at noon.

A War Relic.

Samuel D. Aspinwall, who is in the employ of Phineas Jones & Co. of Newark, N. J., was a member of the First New Jersey Regiment and participated in the battle of Gettysburg. During the fight his command retreated, and as they did so, he hid his cartridge box in a crevice in the rocks near where the New Jersey monument now stands. He visited the battle field there Saturday to attend the dedication of the monument, and, in company with some of his companions, went to the spot where he had deposited his cartridge box and found it where he had placed it twenty-five years ago. Two bullets remained in the box. Mr. Aspinwall brought the relic back with him.
